Republican Distric Convention, Waukesha Co.

THE ASSEMBLY DISTRICT, composed of the towns of Merton, Lisbon and Menomonee, will meet in convention on Saturday the 29th inst., at 8 o'clock P. M., at the Union Church in Lisbon, for the purpose of appointing two delegates to represent said district in the Republican State Convention, to be held at Madison the 2d day of September next, for the purpose of nominating candidates for State Officers, to be elected in November next. Each town is requested to send three delegates.

Dated, Merton, August 13th, 1857.

J. N. OADEY,
GEO. CAIRNCROSS,
A. REDFORD,
aug17 District Committee.

Progress of the War.

A very animated contest is in progress, among our Democratic friends, for Delegate to their approaching State Convention. Hereabouts, the battle hinges on the nominee for Governor; Mayor Cross and Dr. Hesbchman being opposing candidates. Thus far, the result is a tie; the Doctor having carried, without opposition, the two Delegates from the 2nd, 6th and 9th Wards and the Mayor having secured, after a sharp scrimmage, the two Delegates from the 3rd and 4th Wards. The question of "Barstow" and "anti-Barstow" enters more or less into the conflict; the Mayor being supposed to represent the former and the Doctor the latter interest. Ex-Governor Barstow himself, tho' not a candidate for nomination, is said to take an active part in the preliminary caucuses and has declared his preference for Mayor Cross. Whether this will help, or hurt the Mayor, remains to be seen.—The backers of each of the gentlemen, the Mayor and the Doctor, are confident of carrying the majority of the Delegates from this city and county. It is likely to be a close race.

Indian Troubles.

The telegraph reports that the War and Indian Departments, at Washington, are in receipt of information which seems to indicate extensive trouble with the Indians. There is some talk of calling out several regiments of volunteers, in addition to the regular forces in the field.

Republican Primary Convention.—A call will be found in our columns for a Republican Convention in the Lisbon Assembly District, Waukesha County, to elect Delegates to the State Convention. It is time that the calls for the primary meetings in this City and County were published. Will the District Committees attend to it?

Getting up Banks.

The Madison Argus copies the Wall St. circular which we gave to our readers a few days since, and says:

If our banking law is subject to the abuse here pointed at, it is time it were known.

If the Argus will enquire of the Comptroller, it will find that the fact is well known: too well for the system, as at present conducted. The Comptroller has no discretion as to issuing bills, when the required deposits are made, no matter where the bank is located. Legislation is needed, but can't be had till next winter. What is the remedy now? Illinois blocked the game of the wild-cats last winter.

A Correction.—The New London Times desires us to state that the Steamers on the Wolf river run to that place, some miles above Gills' Landing.

These thriving towns are coming up so rapidly in our State that we cannot be expected always to get our notices correct.

Correction.—In our "telegraphic items," on Saturday, the type made us say, "the Royal steamship Europa arrived at Hartford on the 13th, &c. It should, of course, have read Halifax, instead of "Hartford."

A Good Yield.—The last Horicon Argus brags over a crop of barley raised this year, by Judge Barber, of Juneau, Dodge County. The crop yielded 1500 bushels, averaging 70 bushels to the acre, and sold at 98 cents per bushel. The Argus invites every one having a better crop than this to tell of it.

Oregon.

For Convention	7,617
Against	1,678
Total vote	9,926
Majority for Convention	5,838
For Delegate, Lane (Dem.)	5,665
" Lawson (Rep.)	3,471
Democratic majority	2,191
Total vote.	9,236

The Book Trade.—The American Publishers' Circular for last week says: "It is pretty generally acknowledged among the trade that the last few months have been a season of unusual depression, to which, indeed, a few have been obliged to succumb; yet, it will be a gratifying indication, not only of the sound principles upon which the book business in America is conducted, but of the honorable character of its members, when we state, as an illustration, that Messrs. Geo. A. Leavitt & Co., who conduct the sales for the New York Book Publishers Association, and who hold notes from 150 booksellers, scattered all over the country, amounting in the aggregate to upwards of $1,000,000, all falling due on the 3d inst., inform us that every note was punctually taken up at maturity, except three, the money for two of which was delayed by mail, leaving only one of $150 remaining unpaid."

Grand Juries.—An earnest movement is on foot in England to do away with Grand Juries. Advocates of the change furnish slants from which they argue that the institution is an absolute hinderance to justice. A motion in Parliament intended to sumarily kill the bill introduced for the abolition of the system, was recently defeated by large majority.

Important News from Utah.

From a letter in the Sacramento Union, dated Placerville, July 11, we copy the following:

Mr. Wilkins, who came passenger, is direct from Salt Lake, where he has been residing for nine months, having had to flee with his family to California.

The Destroying Angels are busily engaged at their hellish work, murdering and robbing those who are apostates.

Wilkins and party are composed of twenty-six persons, eight of whom are women. After leaving Salt Lake, they were arrested by a large body of Mormons, and taken back on a charge of horse-stealing. As no evidence, even for a Mormon court, was offered against them, they were discharged, at the request of one Mesick, who knew three of them in San Francisco—he being the clerk of the Court. After that they were hunted like wolves, night and day, until they reached Goose Creek Mountains, over one hundred miles from Salt Lake, where the Mormons made a charge on them, and killed six of their animals.

One half of the population would leave, and will do so, if the Government sends a sufficient force to protect them.

Brigham declares that if the Saints will stand by him and the Church, he will be President of the U. S. in less than ten years.

Williams, the lawyer, had fled. The Destroying Angels were on his track, and it was not known if he escaped them. Open and avowed murder of all who have become and are becoming obnoxious is advocated in public assemblages—in fact, an offer was publicly made in a meeting, by one of the faithful, to murder two Gentile traders of Box Elder, near the city, who had incurred the displeasure of Elder Lorenzo Snow, if they did not leave by the 1st of June.

Flax Seed and its Oil.—A convention of the linseed oil manufacturers of Ohio and Indianna was held at Cincinnati recently, at which it was agreed to adopt the rule of selling linseed oil by weight, in accordance with the law of Ohio, at the rate of 7¼ pounds to the gallon. At this convention it was stated that the crop of flax seed at the West the present season will be very large at least 20 per cent. greater than in any former season, and the quality of the seed will be uniformly prime. The price of the new crop is expected to open at about $1,25 per bushel in Cincinnati. The estimates of all manufacturers showed a surplus of seed above their capacity to crush, of 100,000 bushels.

Row at Oshkosh.—Night before last a disgraceful row occurred on the lower part of Ferry street, in which three men were pretty badly pounded. It is feared that one of them was seriously injured.

This is not the first muss that has taken place lately, and it is high time that some efficient measures were taken to preserve order.

Yesterday afternoon the Mayor called a special meeting of the Council to take into consideration the state of things, and some fifteen policemen were appointed to keep the peace. Such scenes are a disgrace to any place, and the least disposition to repeat any such thing, no matter by whom, should be sternly met and repressed.—Democrat.

Lost Overboard.—A fireman on the propeller Montezuma, was lost overboard on Thursday afternoon, about twenty miles from this port. His name and residence are unknown. He was in the act of passing a pile of wood near the stern gangway, when his feet slipped, and he fell into the water. A piece of plank which he caught hold of in falling was seen a few moments after the accident floating upon the water, but the body never rose to the surface. It is supposed that this unfortunate man was drawn under the flukes of the propeller.—Chicago Press.

R. R. Iron.—The schooner Mary D. Hale arrived on Sunday morning last with a cargo of iron, coal and salt. She brought 358 tons of R. R. iron for the Kenosha & Rockford Railroad.—She goes to Chicago to load with grain for Buffalo, and will bring back another full cargo of iron. The work of track-laying has been commenced again, and will be continued until it reaches Genoa.—Kenosha Tel.

Progress of the Great Eastern.—The results of the labor of more than 1,000 men, continuously employed upon the Great Eastern, are showing themselves more evidently every day. The arrangements for launching the Great Eastern are rapidly progressing, and it is now expected that this important event will take place during the spring tides of October.

☞ The Bridge across the Wisconsin at Barre's Ferry, will be completed in about six weeks. That done and another, and a very important channel to the prosperity of Prairie du Chien, is open.—P. du C. Courier.

CITY MATTERS.

Notice.—Those of our subscribers, in the Third Ward who do not get their paper, will oblige us by leaving their addresses at the counting room of the Sentinel office. Our carrier boy for this Ward is sick, and the new one will not probably be able to find all the subscribers for a day or two.

A Change.—It will be noticed, to-day, that we have changed somewhat the style of our paper, which will no doubt be appreciated by our readers. The City, Telegraphic and Commercial news will, hereafter, be found on this (the 1st) page, instead of the 3d as heretofore, and the city matters will appear in large type (brevier)—an improvement which will add to the appearance of the paper, and be very acceptable, undoubtedly, to our readers, who will not have to use magnifying glasses to decipher the city news, but will be able to read the clear, large type with ease, at arms length. Even the literary (!) young men may dispense with their spectacles (when there is nobody to see them) when perusing our columns in future; and we feel assured that the "old folks" will thank us for the change.

Notices of Books.

Life of Tai-Ping-Wang, Chief of the Chinese Insurrection; by J. Milton Mackie, author of Cosas de España, &c. Dix and Edwards, N. Y. publishers.

We have a copy of this valuable and interesting book from Messrs. Ford and Fairbanks. It is written in the attractive style of the author, who is familiar to the venders of Putnam's Magazine, and besides having the charm of his pleasing stories, possesses good claims as a genuine history. We learn from the preface that,—

"The facts contained in this volume have been derived principally from the English journals published in China, and the official Pekin gazette; from the communications of missionaries, both Protestant and Roman Catholic; from the correspondence of Mr. H. Marshall, Commissioner of the United States to China, published in Ex. Doc., No. 123; from a collection of the proclamations of the insurgents, translated by Mr. W. H. Medhurst, sen.; and from a pamplet on the visions of Hung-Siu-tshuen, by Theodore Hamberg, missionery of the Basle Evangelical Society, to which this work is indebted, also, for translations of several of Tai-pingwang's poems."

Biographical and Historical Sketches, by Margaret. Sonor's Pocket Book of Fun.

We have from Kempshall, the above books, being two of Appleton & Co.'s recent publications, in the series called the "American Railway Library." The design of the publishers, to furnish in a cheap and convenient form for the pocket, a series of books, printed in large type, and suited to every reasonably good sort of taste, is an excellent one. The first named of these books is just what its name purports, and that is an all-sufficient recommendation. The other is full of good things from Punch, with illustrations to match.

Those Islands.—Those green floating Islands that have ornamented the river, and obstructed its passage for several days past, took a downward trip on Saturday—some down south, and some down to the river. Although they gave a very picturesque appearance to our beautiful stream, yet they were a considerable annoyance to vessels going up or down it, and we are glad to be able to bid them farewell.

The Menomonee marsh, however, is inexhaustible, and no doubt the next high water will bring up another lot, unless some means be adopted to stop them.

Fun.—There will be a foot race on the Cold Spring course, to-morrow afternoon, for $100, between two celebrated pedestrians.

POLICE COURT, AUGUST 15.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICE.

More about the Sunday fight.—John Maher, Michael Maher and Daniel Dunn, were tried on a charge of riotous conduct, in a saloon at the corner of Spring and Fourth streets, on Sunday afternoon the 9th inst. The evidence in this case showed that the defendants were coming from Church, and on their way home stopped into this grog shop to have a drinking carousal. A man named James Rogers was in the saloon, when they came in, and it seems that they had had some previous difficulty with him, and upon meeting here, hostilities were renewed, and a regular melee ensued, in which one of the parties got about half choked, and another undertook to strangle him with his neck kerchief, but a friend came to his rescue and cut the hand kerchief before he was quite dead. This was his story. In the fuss somebody struck Rogers upon the head, with an iron instrument of some kind, inflicting a frightful wound thereon. The evidence was rather mixed, and it was impossible to get at the truth of the affair. Judge Walworth had previously fined one who had been engaged in this melee, lightly, and as it was the first instance in which any of the parties had been brought up for disorderly conduct he would make the penalty light. They were fined $5 each.

Resisting an Officer.—Charles Weber was arrested on Friday night in the second ward for being drunk. He refused to go with the officer, fought all the way to the station house, and was as troublesome as he could be, for which he was sent up for twenty days in default of fine.

Examination of the Counterfeiters.—The young man who was arrested for offering a $20 counterfeit bill at the store of Zillner & Bonne on Wednesday evening, who gave his name as Henry Webster, was examined, and committed in default of $1000 bail for his appearance at the Circuit Court. His real name is Baxter Fuller, and the way in which it was discovered, was by his memorandom book, and he acknowledged that it was so. The testimonoy of the witnesses, in substance, agreed with the account which we have already published. Baxter told Sheriff Page, when he arrested him, that he lived in Iowa, and was taken on his way to Pennsylvania. When asked why he came to this city from Chicago, he said he came here in order to find a boat going East.

John Bolton was also examined, who was arrested the night previous, for trying to pass a counterfeit bill on the Waynesburg Bank, at the clothing store of Bremer, Pfeiffer & Co., and who was iden tified as being connected with another, who attempted to pass a similar bill at another Store the same evening, but who escaped, and also committed in default of $1000 for his appearance at Circuit Court.

A Pitch in.—Michael Schlei and Jacob Lucas, both runners for German taverns in the 2d ward, had a fight, a lachein, about a ticket, at the steamboat landing, on Saturday morning. Lucas showed a card to a passenger who came in on the boat, to which the other seems to have taken objections, claiming that it was his card, and attempted to take it, when

"He pitched into him,
And him pitched into he,"

And they had a regular "rough and tumble" battle, which ended in them both being lodged in the watch-house. They were fined $5 each and costs.

Brutal Assault on board the Prop. Illinois.—On Saturday afternoon a man named McCracken, mate of the propeller Illinois, came to the police station, badly bruised and beaten, and made a complaint against a man named John Ferguson, fireman on the propeller, of having assaulted, and brutally beaten him. He stated that this fireman was a strong able bodied man, and that there were some persons present at the time, who attempted to stop the other from kicking and beating him, but that the Captain took up a piece of wood and threatened to knock the brains out of the first who would interfere, and stood looking on while Ferguson was beating the mate. There were others also, who told the same story, and the Captain and mate were both arrested.

P. S. The case was tried in the Police Court late Saturday evening, as the parties were in a hurry to get away.

The testimony of some of the witnesses was in accordance with the above statement, yet others stated that the Captain used the stick of wood to drive off the crowd who had come on board. Certain it is, that the Captain permitted the fight to go on, and instead of trying to stop it, drove away those who would have done so. Justice Walworth, however did not think the evidence sufficient to prove that the Captain had encouraged the fight, and therefore dismissed him, and fined Ferguson $15,

Summer Fruits.—We are indebted to our friend Charles Gifford, of the Spring St. Nursery, for beautiful samples of summer pears, and of the "High Bush Blackberry." The latter are very handsome indeed, and like the pears, of delicious flavor. The following note accompanied the parcel:

Spring St, Aug. 14th, 1857.

Editor Sentinel:—I hand you a box of the "Doyenne' d' Ete" pear, and some specimens of the "High Bush Blackberry." The merits of this variety of the Blackberry can hardly be overestimated. The fruit is of fine size and flavor, but it is particularly valuable from the fact that it will produce an abundant crop with garden culture which the wild sorts will not.

Yours truly,
CHARLES GIFFORD.

Judge Smith's Addition.—We have heretofore noticed the admirable view of Milwaukee at the head of the map of this beautiful addition. We now observe, by the advertisement of Messrs. Ogden & Wall, that the lots are to be offered at public auction on Wednesday morning, next, at their office on Michigan Street.

It gives us special pleasure to call the attention of our readers to the sale of such property as this, for we regard it as by far the most desirable which has been offered to the public for some time past. Were this tract as near the centre of business in Chicago as it is to that of this city, the lots would readily command a thousand dollars each. For private residences they are unsurpassed, and we presume that our citizens will not slow the present opportunity of making a cheap purchase pass by unimproved.

New Wheat.—Several samples of new club wheat were in the market Saturday. They were generally of excellent quality. Dry and clean parcels sold for milling at $1 20. Not enough winter wheat has come in yet to test the market. The quality, in Washington, Dodge and other counties, north and north-west of Milwaukee, is said to be very good.

A Phonetic Paper.—Mr. Colladay, of Fox Lake, publishes a prospectus of a new paper, to be called The Phonetic Pantagraph, intended "for the dissemination of Phonetic knowledge and pure literature."

It is to be a monthly of 16 pages, at $1,00 per year for single subscriptions.

Horticulteral Premium.—There was an error, Mr. Spaan informs us, in the copy of the awards of premiums handed to us. J. W. Dunlap, and not Mr. Gifford, received the premium for the best 12 Dahlias. Mr. Gifford, we believe, had the best one.

The Mayor and the City Bonds.

Comptroller Gardiner, in the following communication, explains the apparent discrepancy in his statement to one of the City Aldermen, a few days since, relative to the account current of the Mayor with the city, and the official publication made by him in the News and Sentinel of the 14th inst.

City Comptroller's Office,
Milwaukee, Aug. 15th, 1857.

Mr. Editor:—The American of this morning calls upon me to explain as "best I can," the conflicting statements made by me on the 11th inst. to an Alderman, and the one printed on the 14th.

When the Alderman made the enquiry of the amount of Bonds issued to the Mayor, I gave him the balance, as it then stood on the Books of the City, not having received any account of the disbursements made by the Mayor since the 27th of April, consequently the Books did not exhibit a true state of the account. On the morning of the 13th inst., the Mayor rendered a statement of disbursements with vouchers since the 27th of April, which I examined and found correct, and the same having been passed to his credit, enabled me to furnish the correct statement as printed on the 14th. E. L. H. GARDINER,
Comptroller.

Newhall House Festival.—We are requested to state that tickets for this Festival can be had of the Executive Committee, which consists of Hon. J. B. Cross, Messrs. S. B. Grant, J. C. Starkweather, John Nazro, J. L. Hathaway and J. S. Fillmore. We learn that no invitations will be given out in the city, but all our citizens are invited to participate, and we hope all will join Invitations can be had, to send by mail, of the Executive Committee also.

Rich Silks—Fall Fashions.—Mack Brothers have just received and are now opening a splendid assortment of Dress Silks of the richest patterns and latest styles, to which they invite the special attention of the ladies. This enterprizing firm are bringing on a superior stock of dress goods for the fall trade, and always take pleasure in showing them to their customers. See their advertisement.

Prompt.—The card of Superintendent Jervis, of the Milwaukee & Mississippi R. R. Co., in today's paper, acknowledging the prompt settlement of a fire risk by Mr. W. H. Holland, the Agent in this city of the Ætna Insurance Company of Hartford, Connecticut, speaks well for the manner in which the business of that company is conducted.

The Panorama.—Smith's Panorama of "the Tour to Europe," at Young's Hall, continues to attract as large crowds as ever. The proprietor has been induced to remain three nights longer, in our city Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, after which he goes to Janesville. Don't lose the chance of seeing this capital Panorama.

Acknowledgments.—Messrs. O. D. Pease & Co., have our thanks for samples of vegetables and fruits, in the way of watermelons, peaches, pears, &c. Messrs. Pease & Co. have opened an establishment at No. 18 Wisconsin St. for the sale of Foreign and Domestic Fruits.

The "Great Eastern."—We are indebted to our fellow-citizen, Mr. E. Rodnis, who has just returned from a visit to England, for a copy of a pamphlet, containing a full and detailed description of the Leviathan steamship.

Valuable Water Power.—A valuable water power in Jefferson County, with the improvements &c., is offered for sale at a bargain. See Advertisement.

New Mode of Advertising.—Mr. Hawes, publisher of the "Western and Southern Catalogue and Stranger's Guide," will soon be in town, and will call in a day or two, for the purpose of procuring advertisements for the next edition, which will be ready for distribution about the 25th of September next.

The work will be printed in a neat and accurate form on good paper, and well bound, containing three indexes, one for advertiser's names, one for the different cities and one for miscellaneous matter, thus giving patrons a rare opportunity of getting their advertisements before the public, as each subscriber is his own circulator of the work, according to the amount advertised.

Hair Restorative.—The demand for this unrivalled preparation for the hair and skin is beyond the possibility of a doubt, and its sale is greater than any other Hair Restorative that has ever been before the public. Tens of thousands of persons who were bald and gray, and others whose faces were covered with unsightly blotches and pimples, are now, with their own glossy hair, and with faces comely and fair to look upon, seen daily promenading the streets of all the principal cities of the Union, and by their influence spreading the fame of Wood's Hair Restorative throughout the civilized world. But the trial of one bottle is more convincing than all we would say in a whole newspaper column.

Heads nearly bald and others nearly white, are daily being changed to their pristine beauty, and faces covered with pimples are rendered as smooth as an infant's and blushing as a rose, all by the use of Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative.—St. Louis Commercial List. Sold here by all Druggists.

LATEST NEWS!

BY MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH.

Collision—Propeller Sunk and 13 Lives Lost.

New York, Aug. 15—8 P. M.

The Collins steamship Baltic, which was to have sailed to-day for Liverpool, is detained till two o'clock to-morrow (Sunday) P. M.

A collision occured on Long Island Sound this morning, between the steamer Metropolis, of the Fall River Line, and the propeller J. N. Harris, hence for New London. The collision occurred between Faulkland Island and New Haven. The Metropolis was bound to this port. The Harris sunk almost immediately. She had on board 25 persons—passengers and crew—of whom 13 went down with her.

The following are the names of the lost:—Wife and child of A. K. Smith, of Brooklin; Miss Gordon, daughter of Geo. Gordon, of this city; John, Elizabeth and Mary Smith, children of the Captain of the Propeller; Stephen Prentice, of New London, mate of the Harris, Geo. Allen, deck hand; Mary Withers, chambermaid; Ann Withers, cook; a gentleman, wife and child, names unknown.

The following passengers were saved:—John P. Dunn, W. Horr, Jas. Cahill, Samuel Newman, A. L. Smith, Jas' Manny, John Ayers—crew saved. Capt. Leonard Smith, Geo. M. Thompson, 1st engineer; E. N. Ward, 2nd do.; Wm. Graves and Jerry Flannegan, deck hands.

The accident occurred in consequence of the Metropolis mistaking the Propeller for a schooner, she having sails and showing no head light.

George Trappen, of New Bedford, passenger on the Metropolis, died of apoplexy soon after the accident.

A meeting was held on board the Metropolis and a Committee appointed to collect subscriptions in behalf of the sufferers, who promptly raised $465.

The night was clear and moonlight.

An incident is related of a woman seen struggling in the water, supporting her infant child in her arms. A rope was thrown to her which fell within her reach, and with which she might have saved herself by relinquishing her hold upon her child. She saw the rope, pressed her child to her breast and sunk forever.

Halifax, Aug. 14—3 P. M.

The Merchant's Powder Magazine, containing the whole stock of powder, in Halifax, exploded with a terrible concussion shortly after midnight last night. One man was killed and fifteen others seriously injured. Five houses were demolished and several others damaged. The Government Magazine and the new Barracks were much shattered, and nearly all the windows in the northern part of the city were broken. The damages are estimated at $100,000. The magazine is supposed to have been fired by an incendiary. For hours the excitement was intense. Many persons were strown from their beds, and others bewildered, rushed to the streets for safety, believing an earthquake had occurred.

National Thanksgiving.

In view of the abundance and excellent quality of the crops of every kind, almost without exception, throughout the country, it is suggested by many of our exchanges that President BUCHANAN appoint a day of NATIONAL THANKSGIVING to the Bounteous Giver of so many blessings, that the whole nation may unite, on the appointed day, in one grand Harvest Home.

Hon. Edward McGarry.

This gentleman has encountered more of persecution, than any State officer under the grade of Governor, has ever been honored with in Wisconsin.

He is a foreigner, Irishman and Democrat, and the duties of his office required him to dwell in a locality where Know Nothings and Black Republicans rule the roast. They preferred charges against him highly prejudicial to his character as a man and public officer. It was believed that the joint product of Know Nothingism and Black Republicanism which elected Commissioner McGarry to appear before the Governor, would certainly remove him, and no one knows at this day why he was not removed, as the Governor has assigned no reason for not doing it.

We copy the above paragraphs from an article in Saturday's News announcing Mr. McGARRY as a candidate for re-election, and chanting his praises as a faithful and efficient officer, good Democrat, &c. It is hardly necessary to say that the cry of "persecution" and the talk about Mr. McGARRY's being a "foreigner," an "Irishman," and the object of Know Nothing and "Black Republican" attack, is all gammon. The public know, if the News does not, that the charges against Mr. McGARRY, instead of being "the joint product of Know Nothingism and Black Republicanism," were preferred by McGARRY's own political friends. The Governor did no more than his duty in citing Mr. McGARRY to appear and answer those charges, which the News appears to think would certainly remove him." The Governor, it seems, thought otherwise, for he left McGARRY unmolested, much, no doubt, to the disappointment of the News, which had its pipes all tuned for a shrill outcry about the proscription of this "foreigner, Irishman and Democrat." Not having been "proscribed" by a Republican Governor, and the "persecution" of which the News complains, having originated with his own political friends, we submit that Mr. McGARRY's claims to the honors of martyrdom are by no means indisputable, and that the attempt of the News to manufacture a little political capital in his behalf by this sort of game, will hardly be crowned with success.

Missouri Election—Whupnecn and Bridge Creek.

The last St. Louis Democrat gives returns from all but nine counties—fifty-eight official—which leave Rollins in a majority of 1435 votes.

In reference to the apprehended frauds in the returns, the same paper says:

We stated on yesterday that unless fraud were perpetrated the election of Major Rollins was a fixed fact. We reiterate the same to-day; but we regret to add that we are convinced that frauds are being perpetrated. Our advices from the City of Jefferson are to the effect that already the game of amended returns has been begun.—Thus, the county of Polk has been certified to the Secretary of State as one majority for Stewart, and so recorded; but now Col. Acock sends up an amended return giving Stewart two hundred and thirty-one majority. We are further advised that the nullifiers in their desperation have sent out runners to meet the messengers bearing the returns of the remaining counties, with instructions to alter the figures to suit the necessities of the case. This fact would seem to have already transpired in regard to Adair and Maries, which show figures that cannot be accounted for on any other ground. If the fraud has been thus begun, where shall it end? The villainy that was perpetrated at the last session, whereby Hancock Jackson was declared lieutenant governor, was only consummated by the fraudulent returns from Polk county, and now we have the same man, in the same county, moving in behalf of a like fraud.

What do our citizens say to such an act?—Are they prepared to stand idly by and see their dearest privileges violated and outraged by a pack of political profligates, who are worse than the ballot stuffers of California?

Regular democracy, in Missouri as in Wisconsin, is determined to carry its ends, by fair means or foul, and the Whupnecn and Bridge Creek frauds of this State are to have their counterparts there. As the messenger went from Madison to Waupaca, to get 60 votes more for BARSTOW, so runners are sent out in Missouri to get votes enough to elect STEWART.

THE IOWA ELECTION.—The News finds it very difficult to yield the victory in Iowa. The new Constitution was bitterly opposed by a great many of the democrats, because it contained a clause, providing for trial by jury for persons claimed as Fugitive Slaves.

Our last Dubuque papers foot up, with returns from 45 counties, majorities of 10,041 for, and 4,480 against the Constitution. A reasonable margin enough to make sure its adoption by the people.

THE BRAVEST OF THE BRAVE.—Major Dyckman, to whom that gold box was awarded, by a Committee, does not seem likely to get it. It is charged that the award was made by the influence of one of the democratic factions in New York, and the City Council does not seem inclined to ratify it. Col. Burnett's friends still claim the box for him.

A CINCINNATI OPINION.—Referring to the sale by the city of Boston, of the steam fire engine Miles Greenwood, the Cincinnati Gazette says that what the corporation of Boston wants "is a steam fire engine which, in addition to throwing water well, can cast more ballots than any hand company. The inventor who can solve that problem will receive the cordial thanks of the tax-payers of Boston."

SPANISH QUARTERS.—The principal merchants of Albany, N. Y., now refuse to take the Spanish coin as all, and are determined to do their part in banishing them from circulation, and put an end to the system of dealing in shillings and pence, by which the poor are so constantly swindled in making change.

DEATH OF AN EX-SENATOR.—Hopkins L. Turney of Tennessee, a former U. S. Senator from that State, died recently, at Winchester, of disease of the heart.

☞ The British fleets in the Chinese Seas are very powerful, consisting of 13 sailing vessels, 12 steamers and 7 gun boats, mounting 468 guns, and at last advices there were en route 12 more steamers and 14 sail vessels, mounting 320 guns,—so that the force of Great Britain on the coast of China, at the present time, is something like 60 vessels, mounting 788 guns, besides transport, store and hospital ships. It is very clear that the British Government is in earnest in its determination to purge the Chinese of their exclusiveness, and as far as possible, throw open their vast country to the trade of the world,—which, of course, inits result principally to the benefit of the two greatest commercial nations—England and America. The arrangements of the British admirals seem to have a permanent character, which leads to the belief that their action will be more persistent than ever before.

THE JULY IMMIGRATION AT NEW YORK.—The arrivals of passengers from foreign countries at New York in July, footed up 27,192, against 16,202 in the same month of last year. There were from Liverpool 12,068; Bremen 4,058; Havre 3,800; Amsterdam 37; London 1,205; Hamburg 2,954. Of this large number of emigrants, says the New York Times, there are not 500 who have not already gone to the West, or are intending to do so. They appear to be the better class, who are provided with funds to settle upon lands in the West, or enter into some kind of business.

DEPRESSION IN SHIPPING.—The New York Times says that a large number of ships, of the first class, still remain laid up at the wharves for want of employment, there being nothing to do in the way of freight. It is said that so great a depression of the shipping interest, as at present exists, has not occurred for the last ten or fifteen years.

IMPORTANT NEWS FROM FLORIDA—CAPTURE OF SQUAWS AND CHILDREN.—The Tampa Peninsula of the 24th ult., announces the capture, by a company of volunteers, of six squaws and nine children, and thinks that when these are all brought in, the warriors will soon follow.

THINGS AT KENOSHA.—The last Kenosha Telegraph notices the rapid rise in Real Estate in that City of late, and thinks that the "most skeptical would be convinced by a visit, that Kenosha is destined to be the second largest city in Wisconsin."

SINGULAR FACT.—During the week before last, three canal boats, named "Faith," "Hope," and "Charity," were sunk in the Oswego Canal, near Fulton.

A SORE THROAT.—The Green Bay Advocate publishes the following hard hit at Ex-Gov. BARSTOW:

A PRINTER IN A RAGE.—Mr. FITCH, of the Manitowoc Herald, having passed through Green Bay recently, called in at the Advocate office and made the acquaintance of a junior partner, whom he describes as "a perfect fac simile of ex-Gov. BARSTOW. The Junior cannot be pacified. During our business relations of something over eleven years, he asks of us if he has not been reasonably honest? With consternation on his countenance, he enquires of us (we having seen BARSTOW) if there is any resemblance! Now we will say this for the Junior: he has always been tolerably correct in money matters; he has always been considered good looking; and in travelling around the State, is not afraid to pass through Waupun leisurely.

If we were Mr. FITCH, who is rather a small sized man and values whole bones, we should retract that statement at the earliest moment. We say this to him confidentially. In the meantime, we are doing our best to restrain our partner from a precipitate visit to Manitowoc.

STURGEON BAY CANAL.—The Green Bay Advocate calls upon the company chartered to build this Canal to report progress. It says:

In a trip down the Bay last week, we found six vessels at Menomonee, eleven at Oconto, one at Peshtigo, one at Pensaukie, and one each at Big and little Suamicoe, besides four under sail—making twenty-five vessels. Every one of these vessels would, if the Canal were open, pass through it, at a saving to each of not less than one hundred dollars per trip. Roughly estimating the number of vessels trading into the various ports of Green Bay, they will not be less that seventy-five. Each of these will make fourteen trips during the season, and go through the Door. If they could go through the Canal, they would add three trips at least to that number, at a profit to each during the season of say twelve hundred dollars. The advantage, to those vessels alone, by the use of that Canal, would reach an aggregate of $90,000. This is a very low estimate, and is far short of the actual benefit which would accrue to this region by the use of that channel.

If the company now chartered does not soon intend to use its privileges, and go on to build the work, we trust that another one may be formed. Commerce needs the Canal.

MENOMINEE RIVER—GREEN BAY.—The Green Bay Advocate has an article upon the rapidly increasing lumber trade of the Menominee river, which divides this State and the upper peninsula portion of Michigan.

At the mouth of the river are the Mills of the N. Y. Lumbering Co., which are expected to turn out 12,000,000 feet of lumber this year.

Just above, on the Michigan side, is the mill of A. KIRBY, of this city, while further up are the mills of WELLS & LUDINGTON, besides two others. The Advocate says:

The Menominee is a large stream, with a good flow of water at all times. There are not less than seven feet of water on the bar at its mouth, and ten feet inside. Vessels are frequently taken in for part of their loading; but now, for the want of towing conveniences, they are mostly loaded at anchor outside. We see nothing to prevent its being made a good and capacious harbor with some little dredging at the mouth, and building of one pier for a breakwater along the northern side of the entrance.

State Superintendent.

Considerable is being said just now, by the papers, in reference to the qualifications requisite to make the best State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and also opinions and preferences expressed, as to who should be the candidate for that office. Without giving a positive opinion in regard to the latter point, we are free to express our views on the former.

For the efficient discharge of the duties of this office, the incumbent should in the first place, be a well educated man—he should have a thorough practical as well as classical education. He should be a man of sound judgment, and be possessed of a large fund of sound common sense, little given to theoretical experimenting in the novelties and isms of the day, and yet with a mind open to the progressive improvements of the age; above all, he should be a man, who is interested in, and devoted to, the cause of Education on its own account, instead of one who endeavors to interest himself in the cause, because he has been elected to an office that compels him to do so. The former easily awakens such an interest in the minds of the people, while the latter has all he can do to interest himself. He should be correct and quick in generalization, capable of reducing heterogeneous facts to general principles, and of bringing system out of disorder. He should be a man of thorough and correct business habits, active, energetic and persevering. To a man possessing all these qualifications we should be willing to entrust the dearest interest of the State—the interests of the cause of General Education

In the range of our acquaintance we know of no man who possesses all the qualifications we have enumerated, in a more eminent degree, than J. G. MCMYNN, of Racine. We presume no candidate could be nominated who would be more acceptable to the people of Kenosha County irrespective of party, than that gentleman.—Kenosha Telegraph.

☞ The Crops in this section of country never looked finer than at present. Although the season opened very late, the uniformly warm weather, and the abundant supplies of rain, have brought vegetation forward so rapidly that it is but little behind the average of seasons. Potatoes look well, and yield finely; wheat and corn, together with the other cereals, all promise finely. The wheat is about ready for harvesting, and we hear no complaints from the farmers in regard to its quality. We would speak particularly of the heavy settlements recently made by the Belgians and Germans, adjoining Bay Settlement. Every inch of cleared land was planted last Spring, and the good results will be sensibly felt throughout this section. On the whole, we congratulate the tillers of the soil on the bright prospects of a bountiful harvest.—Green Bay Advocate.

For the Sentinel.

The State Superintendent.

Messrs. Editors:—The Waukesha Republican, of the 11th inst., contains a communication, awarding to a correspondent of the Sentinel considerable "credit for discovering and correcting a very popular error that the best teacher will necessarily make the best Superintendent."—The writer then disposed very summarily of the pretensions of Mr. MCMYNN's friends, and went on to recommend for the office of State Superintendent, E. ENOS Jr. of this place, representing that "Mr. ENOS is a graduate of the State Normal School of New York, and was for many years a practical and successful teacher. He is a zealous friend of popular education, and has been—during most of his life—actually connected with its interests &c."

Now, Mr Editor, I quite agree with "S.,"—the correspondent referred to—as to the general tenor of his remarks; but, it seems to me, he has omitted Mr. ENOS' most important qualification—that of being a Book agent, the agent of Ivison & Phinney, one of the parties to the celebrated agreement concerning the introduction of books into our State, which made such a noise when exposed last Spring by "Badger." Really it was a great oversight to omit this important reason why he should be nominated. Who is so well calculated to minister to the wants of our Public Schools as the man who has travelled all over the State, from "Daw even unto Beersheba," for purpose of introducing his employers' books,—Of course his books are the best books, otherwise he would not wish to introduce them. Being the best books of their kind, they should be introduced the length and breadth of the State: and—to effect this—could anything better be imagined than the office of State Superintendent? I pause for a reply. Taking these things into consideration, it becomes evident to the meanest capacity that we should, undoubtedly, have a Book agent for our Superintendent.

So far as this I perfectly agree with "S," but I must be permitted to say—having seen it thus decided that we must have a book agent for the office—that we should have the smartest of his class. This man is not—in my humble opinion—E. ENOS Jr., but a gentleman, as much better qualified than he as Book agents generally are better than ordinary citizens. I allude to E. B. GRAY, Esq., the talented agent of A. S. Barnes & Co. Mr. GRAY was born and bred a New Englander, and since he graduated in the Vermont University, at Burlington, has been "intimately connected with educational interests."

But this communication is already too long, so I shall bring it abruptly to a close, by saying that Mr. GRAY has all the qualifications of Mr. ENOS, together with some, of which he never dreamed, and that I am,

Very respectfully yours,
QUOD.

Waukesha, Aug. 13, 1857.

EMIGRATION FROM IRELAND.—The British Parliament has recently published a series of tables showing the extent of Irish emigration up to January 1, 1857, and its bearing on the population—the name, age, and country of every person leaving Ireland being known from the year 1851. Here are the results:

"The tables compiled from these documents for the period from the 1st of May, 1851, to the 31st of December, 1855, were published in the general report of the census commissioners, by which it appears that the population, amounting to 6,552,385 persons on the 30th of March, 1851, was reduced by emigration to 6,077,283 on the 1st of January, 1856, allowance being made for the usual increase caused by the excess of births over deaths, calculated on the average of these events in England and Wales during 15 years.—In the year ending the 31st of December, 1856, the returns show that 90,781 persons, of whom 47,570 were male, and 43,211 female, emigrated from the ports of Ireland. This amount, after deducting the estimate excess of births over deaths, makes the probable number of inhabitants in Ireland on the 1st of January, 1857, to have been 6,047,392 persons."

The famous Ohio Rescue Case.

From the account given in the Cincinnati papers of the examination in this case, we think the U. S. Marshal must have received a good round scoring at the hands of the counsel for the citizens arrested. Mr. Corwin (John A. of that name) a prominent democrat, was one of defendants' counsel. The Commercial says:

Judge Corwin commenced by denouncing the prosecution as frivolous and absurd, and calculated to bring the federal government into contempt, and proceeded thence to show how serious might be the consequences, in case of conviction, to moral, honorable, upright citizens of Ohio, absolutely guiltless of the "crime" imputed to them. The worst possible construction to be put upon their offence by the most ingenious sophistry, was simply that the defendants had misconceived their rights and duties as citizens of a sovereign State. But even this is claimed to be beyond the bounds of the facts, and maintained that as part of a Sheriff's posse they were bound to execute the process of their State Courts without possessing the right to inquire into their validity.

He then took up the testimony and reviewed it at length, dwelling upon certain vital points involving the standing and conduct of the Deputy Marshals, and commenting upon their raid into Champaign county, now with the most bitter mockery, and by turns with a savage invective that made the walls of the Court House ring to the echo, and the unfortunate Marshals writhe under the terrible torture to which they were subjected. He depicted ten stalwart Marshals, some of them famous throughout the State for their pugilistic prowess, and other accomplishments, distinguishing them from gentlemen, all armed to the teeth, making their way to the unprotected dwelling of a farmer, upon the scent of a poor nigger flying from the galling chain of servitude; described their miserably abortive effort to obtain possession of his body, and railed at them with almost ferocious vehemence. He spake of the moral force of one human being once in servitude, but having tasted the sweets of liberty, and armed as the Marshals were, he said—in tones that fairly shook the temple of justice—"Yes Sir! He could whip ten such Marshals as were then hunting him to slavery!"

The effect of this sally was electrifying.—There was a momentary pause, and semi-cessation of pulsation in the hearts of men. The Marshals all pale, fairly quivered with excess of passion, when suddenly Deputy Marshal John C. Elliot burst forth "Yess are a liar!"

Judge Corwin's face flushed a moment, but regaining his composure instantly, and gathering irresistible force, he turned upon his insulter with a bitter sneer, as if in utter contempt, and with redoubled force reiterated: "SIRS, HE DID WHIP SIX! all armed to the very teeth!"

The Court meantime looked on with the utmost composure, and never lifted a voice in defence of its dignity.

Mr. Corwin then went into a similar style to describe the manner in which six Marshals were intimidated by a bed-ridden old man, (R. Russel,) who had sent his daughter to the door to meet them, and upon one of the Marshals threatening to shoot her if she did not give way, threatened to blow a hole with his rifle through the man that would harm his daughter.

Replying then to the District Attorney's sneer at the prisoners, whom he charged with having skulked from arrest, he again demanded, "who first skulked? The Marshals! who ran and hid in the woods, and upon their return to Cincinnati denied having been upon the expedition at all. Two of the Marshal's party!" Here again he indulged in a flight of denunciatory rhetoric, attended with sarcastic thrusts at the bravery of the U. S. Marshals that aggravated them into fever. Such a galling, withering, blasting excoriation seldom falls from the lips of man before our legal tribunals. The Reporter's pen cannot sketch it.

SOMETHING NEW.—An invention rivalling in ingenuity Phœnix's "Hen Persuader," if not his "Feline Attachment," has just been put on exhibition at a window in Broadway, New York, which attracts a curious crowd. It consists of a rolling cylinder set in the side of a box, which (the box) is surmounted by a wire open-work cupola. The cylinder is covered with treacle, and crowds of vagrant flies light down upon it. There they become so completely absorbed in the entrancing sweets they are feeding upon that they fail to observe the gentle, treacherous, revolving motion of the cylinder, until too late, they are carried inside of the fatal box, are scraped off by some unseen diabolical mechanism, rise up into the wire dome, and buzz beautifully. It is scarcely necessary to remark that once imprisoned, the flies may be kept until they give bonds for their future good behavior, or are otherwise disposed of as prudence or domestic economy may dictate.

SCHILLER'S SON.—The eldest son of Schiller died on the 29th of June at Stuttgard. He leaves one son—an officer in the Austrian service—the only immediate descendant of the poet bearing his name.

Loss of the Bark Monaco at Sea.—Fifty-Four Persons Drowned—Narrative of the Survivors.

The American bark Monneco, Capt. Dailey, started on the 13th day of June, from Gottenburg, with 61 Swedish passengers, and twelve officers and seamen, for New York. There were seven families on board: the remainder were single persons, women predominating. Capt. Dailey's wife was with him. Nothing of special moment occurred until the 21st day of July. About half past 11 o'clock at night the bark struck light on the port bow; she was then going only about four knots an hour. It was very dark and foggy at the time, and although a good lookout was kept, nothing could be perceived before she struck. The disaster occured in the mate's watch. The captain ran up immediately from below, without waiting to dress, and jumping into the quarter boat, which hung on the davits, placed his wife beside him, and shouted, "Haul the main braces, we have struck an iceberg."

The sailors sprang to obey his orders, and the passengers ran out from the houses on deck, and lent their assistance. Some of the sailors ran forward and lifted up the fore hatch, to see if the water was gaining on the ship. They found that it was already over the water casks. Some of the passengers and sailors worked at the pumps, while others assisted in launching the long-boat, which laid on the top of the forecastle. Capt. Dailey, during this time, remained in the quarter-boat with his wife, and called upon the steward to bring him water and provisions, which he did. Some of the sailors and passengers tried to get into the quarter-boat with the Captain, but he said, "Don't come here, or I will shoot you."—We cannot say whether he had any weapons, but think that the steward, at his request, brought him some. The long-boat was got out and launched, after much severe labor, in safty. We could not tell what object we had struck; we could only see something tall and murky, looming up through the mist, and believed it was an iceberg. The ship began to sink rapidly, and Captain Dailey with the three or four persons in the quarter-boat, tried to lower that into the water; but found they could not on account of the nearness of the vessel to the object on which he had struck. The Captain then, finding he could not launch it, got out of the quarter-boat, ran to the port side of the vessel with his wife, and I descending by the mizzen chains with her, they were taken into the long-boat by the mate and others. The steward, who had been lifting out the quarter-boat with water and provisions to save the captain and his wife, now held a lantern in the mizzen rigging to enable them to get safely into the long-boat. No sooner had he and his wife got into the boat, which was now pretty well loaded, (sixteen persons having taken refuge in it,) than he cried "Shove her off from the ship." The steward climbed up in the mizzen rigging with his lantern, and cried, "Oh, Captain, are you going to leave me here?" Captain Dailey will you leave me here?" This he repeated several times in tones of painful entreaty. The captain said nothing more than "Shove off the boat, which we did as it was deeply laden, and would have been in danger of going down with the ship. We shoved off a little from the bark, leaving the passengers at work at the pumps for dear life.—One of them jumped overboard from the bows and tried to reach the boat; but he perished in the attempt. Several of the sailors only reached us by swimming. We afterwards learned from one of the survivors on the vessel that the passengers, when they found themselves deserted by the crew, calmly left the pumps, and went into their cabins, apparently resigned to their fate. We laid during the night about half a mile from the ship, but could not see it. We supposed that some of the people might be saved in the morning. The weather was very calm or we never should have survived. At dawn, the fog having disappeared, we could see land, and found that the ship had struck on a rock (as we subsequently learned) off Corbin Head, about six miles from a fishery called "Burin," in Burin Co., Newfoundland. We also found that our vessel had not entirely sunk, but had gone down head foremost. The rigging was all standing as we had left it, and the ship was submerged forward about halfway up the foresail, and the stern was five or six feet out of the water, but wet by the spray. We found two passengers and the steward alive in the starboard mizzen rigging; all of the rest were drowned. It was about half an English mile from the vessel to where we could land with the boat. We rowed ashore and landed twelve of our people, including the captain and his wife, and the other four took the boat back to the bark, and saved the steward and the two passengers. The rock against which the bark struck was at least three times higher than her mainmast, and quite perpendicular.

NEW POLICE SYSTEM.—Not the system now struggling into existence at Commissioners' Hall, but a newer one by far, invented by an ex-sea-captain, now a well-known and highly respectable ship owner in South st. The captain's family being out of town for the summer, he occupies two rooms in the second story of a fashionable boarding-house. At these lodgings he has a few little pictures and curiosities, and a collection of papers, of little value to any but the owner. Having occasion to leave town for a few days last week, with the fact before his eyes, that most rooms vacated for twenty-four hours were entered and ransacked, and with but little confidence in the Metropolitans, the captain arranged matters as follows: On the table in one room he wrote, "Look on the table in the other room, Mr. Thief;" and on the table in the other room he left the following memorandum:—"Don't steal anything out of these two rooms, or injure anything, and send to No.—South street, and I will give you $10, and no questions asked, any time after Monday next." This paper was duly signed by the captain, and could not fail to strike the eye of any person entering the room. The captain returned on Monday, and found that his rooms had been entered as he anticipated; but everything was in perfect order, and nothing missing but the memorandum and promise to pay. On Wednesday a very polite servant called on the captain at his office in South street, and presenting the two papers in an envelope, remarked that a gentleman, waiting outside in his carriage, would be pleased to receive the money. Thereupon the captain forked over the $10, observing the conditions faithfully, and never even looked out of the window to see the carriage drive away, or try to get a squint at its occupant.—Jour. of Commerce.

TEA AS A SUMMER DRINK.—Frederick Sala, writing from Russia, to the Household Words, mentions that on a table near him "a large tumbler filled with a steaming liquid of a golden color, in which floats a thin slice of lemon. It is tea, the most delicious, the most soothing, the most thirst-allaying drink you can have in summer time, and in Russia." Tea flavored with a slice of lemon we have never tried, neither are we prepared to recommend, as a summer beverage, tea steaming hot, as Sala does. But tea made strong, (as we like it, or as strong as you like it,) well sweetened, with good milk, or better, cream in it, in sufficient quantity to give it a dark yellow color, and the whole mixture cooled in an ice-chest to the temperature of ice-water, is "the most delicious, the most soothing, the most thirst-allaying drink" we have ever treated ourselves or friends to. We know of nothing to compare with it for deliciousness or refreshment. It cheers, but not inebriates. Its stimulus is gentle, its flavor exquisite. Try it, good reader, make a note of this now, and when the summer fever visits you, and you feel, with Sidney Smith, that for the sake of coolness, you get out of could your flesh and sit in your bones, try our specific of ice-cold tea. Julips, cobblers, and such things, sink into insignificance beside it. They are only temporarily refreshing, and fire the blood after the five minutes following their imbibition. Ice-cream is the only preparation fit to be mentioned with our cold tea.

BIRTH OF NAPOLEON.—A singular fact has been recently developed in Paris. The parish register in that city, recording the marriage of Napoleon with Josephine, states Napoleon's actual birth-day to be August 15, 1769, as reported by himself, and given in all his biographies, but as February 5, 1768. The register of the marriage, signed by Napoleon and Josephine, is attested also by Joseph Bonaparte, and several other members of the family. It would seem that when Napoleon found himself on the way to power, he did not wish to have it alleged against him that he was not a Frenchman by birth. He dropped a letter in his Italian name, (becoming Bonaparte instead Buonaparte,) and declared himself born in August, 1769, instead of February 1768, because between those dates Corsica had been annexed to France. The latter date, therefore, made him a Frenchman.

A "Font" of Type.—As a scrap of information with which few of our readers are acquainted, we give the proportions in which the different letters are cast in a "font" of type, and in which they occur in print:

Letter e, 1200; t, 900; a, 850; n, o, s, i, 800; h, 640; r, 620; d, 440; l, 400; u, 340; c, m, 300; f, 250; w, y, 200; g, p, b, 160; v, 120; k, 80; q, 50; j, x, 40; z, 20.

Besides these, there are the combined letters fi, 50; fl, 40; ff, 20, ffi, 15; ffl, 10; æ, 10; œ, 6. This refers to the small letters only, leaving out points, capitals, figures, spaces, and accents. The proportion of capitals and small capitals differs from that of the small letters. In those, I takes the first place, then T, then A, then E, &c.—Student and Schoolmate.

WEALTHY COLORED PEOPLE.—The New Orleans Crescent says that the free colored population of that city are possessed of property to the amount of $4,000,000. Prof. Monroe calculates that there are 50,000 colored people in Ohio, and that they have $6,000,000 worth of property, on which they pay annually $80,000.
